PENGARUH INFLASI, PENGANGGURAN DAN KEMISKINAN TERHADAP PERTUMBUHAN EKONOMI DI INDONESIA

Andri Liswandi, Kasman Karimi¹, Firdaus¹
Ekonomi Pembangunan, Fakultas Ekonomi, Universitas Bung Hatta
Email: andriliswandi@yahoo.com, kasman_karimi@yahoo.com, firdaus@bunghatta.ac.id

Abstrak

The economic growth is a the process of change in a country's economy sustainable towards better conditions during a certain period. This research aims to examine how the influence of variables of inflation, unemployment, poorness to the economic growth at the years 1990-2015. The was given by using multiple linear regression analysis, classic assumption (normality test, autocorrelation test, heteroscedasticity test, multicollinearity test), statistic test (R² test, t-test, F-test). The results of research was inflation, poorness has a negative correlation and affect the growth of the Indonesian economy, unemployment has a negative correlation and did not affect the economic growth in Indonesia.

Keywords: economic growth, inflation, unemployment, poorness.